General Accounting Office, 2002 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)53056985 Subject: Privatization in education -- United States. Excerpt: . . . groups, measurement over time, and focus on academic achievement, 14 parental satisfaction, parental involvement, or school climate. All of the studies addressed the effectiveness of schools managed by Edison. One study also addressed the effectiveness of schools managed by all three 15 private companies - Edison, Mosaica, and Chancellor Beacon. We were unable to identify any rigorous studies that included analysis of District 16 public schools managed by any of these three companies. Of the studies included in our review, four studies addressed only outcomes related to student achievement, while one study addressed student achievement and 17 other outcomes such as parental satisfaction and school climate. This study followed individual student standardized test scores over a 3-year period and found that Edison students progressed at similar rates to those in the traditional Miami-Dade County Public Schools (MDCPS); this finding is not generalizable to other schools managed by Edison or any other private company. The study was designed to ensure that the Edison students were similar to the random sample of students drawn from MDCPS in terms of school grade, socioeconomic status, as indicated by the percent eligible for free reduced price lunch, ethnicity, and achievement levels, as indicated by comparability in test scores prior to students enrolling in the Edison school. The study...
